A Profile
High Point University is a four-year liberal arts university founded in 1924 and related to the United Methodist Church.
Enrollment is approximately 2,000 with 100 full-time faculty members.
Degree programs include BA, BS, MS, and MBA.

President's Statement

It is indeed an enormous privilege to congratulate those of you who make up the Class of 1997. While there are some older students, all of you are truly filled with youth and hope, energy and aspiration, and you can embark now on a new journey along life's way. Every parent, mentor, professor and friend watches you and wishes you the very best. You have worked relentlessly for your wonderful achievements. I congratulate you on an honor hard earned, thus well deserved.

To the rising sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Let me say, I wish for you God's speed as you continue with your study and your work. Working with you is a great pleasure. One of the greatest blessings of life is for us to be involved in something that evokes all of our allegiance. My wish for you is that you will be as happy in your work as I am in mine. I know you to be mature persons - loving, responsible, and productive.

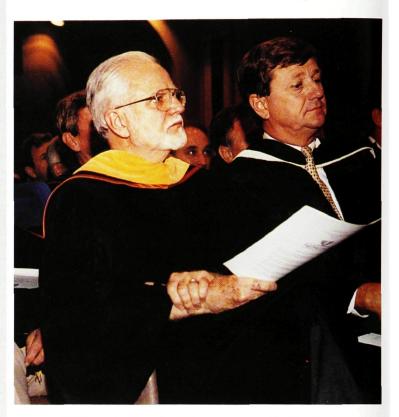

I have learned through the years that besides my trust in God, I have derived the greatest strength from the kindness, love, and complete understanding of loved ones and friends. I know that nearly all of you who graduate as well as those students who remain have learned that. Others will.

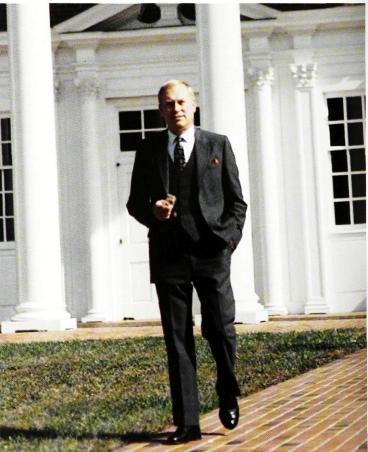

With warmest regard and appreciation,

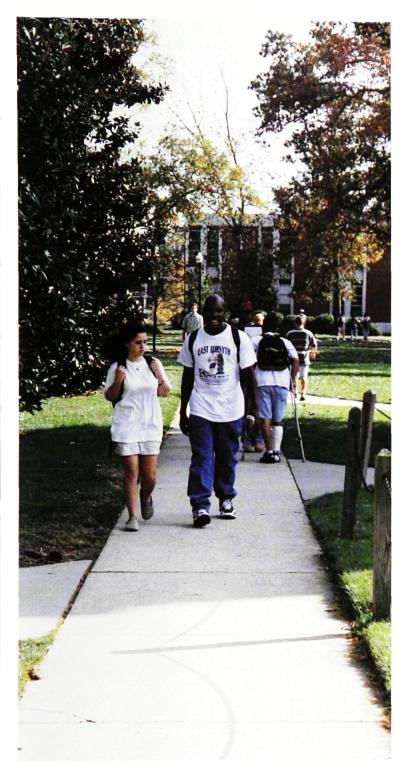

Jan E. Clartenson

In Search of Excellence

"We, the students of High Point University, shall seek excellence in the classroom, on the playing field, and in the positions of leadership and service across our campus."

(excerpt from University Conduct Code preamble)

The library serves as a quiet place to study and work as pairs on projects.

Purposeful

Students enjoy the one-on-one attention they receive in classrooms and labs.

Community

First, a college is an educationally purposeful community - a place where faculty and students share academic goals and work together to strengthen teaching and learning on campus.

(from Campus Life: In Search of Community)

Students and faculty celebrate commencement and say goodbye and thank you.

Registering for classes can be a time consuming event, especially to new students.

Assistant Dean Amy Deuterman and RA Brian Bumgardner review programming ideas for the semester.

Goals

Graduation is a special time for our community as we watch another chapter close and wait for a new one to begin. The campus filled with family, friends, faculty, and other well-wishers to send the graduates off to face the futures they prepares for at High Point University.

Open & Just

Community

Second, a college or university is an open community

- a place where freedom of expression is uncompromisingly protected and where civility is powerfully affirmed. Third, a college or university is a just community - a place where the sacredness [supreme worth] of the person is honored and where diversity is aggressively pursued.

(from Campus Life: In Search of Community)

Spiritual well-being is also addressed during the activities fair, as students set up a table.

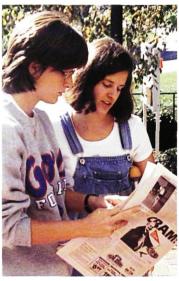

Cory Fink discusses a concern regarding his fraternity house with landscaping manager Chad Thrulow.

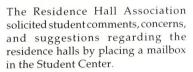

Brian Schmidt addresses the IFC delegates as they discuss important Rush guidelines.

The Campus Chronicle newspaper serves as a source of information and forum for student opinions.

Disciplined Community

High Point University encourages students to accept personal responsibility and take pride in their actions. Pictured is Gwendolyn Ruffin addressing new students during Opening Convocation which focuses on being a part of our community.

Study Abroad

Pub crawling was a great way to meet the locals and soak up the regional folklore.

Program

High Point University has a commitment to providing cultural enrichment through their study abroad opportunities. Students who qualify have the choice of study in England, France, Germany, Mexico, Spain, and Canada. Special trips to Ireland have also been popular and educational.

Dr. Goedeke and his students gather for one last shot before leaving for Ireland.

In A Strange Land

Britt Zimmerman studies the transit map intently wondering "Where the heck am I?". Studying abroad poses many challenges from navigating local tourist services to interpreting menus. Being in a group helps as students learn by trial and error.

A Caring

Community

Fifth, a college or university is a caring community - one in which the well-being of each member is sensitively supported and where service to others is encouraged.

Volunteer

The greeks organized a walk to benefit the Red Cross Disaster Relief.

Activities

Students at High Point University contributed over 15,000 volunteer service hours during the 1996-1997 academic year. Service organizations like Circle K and Alpha Phi Omega donated their time and energies to the campus and local community. Greek organizations worked hard raising money and assisting their respective philanthropies.

Volunteering brings friends closer together.

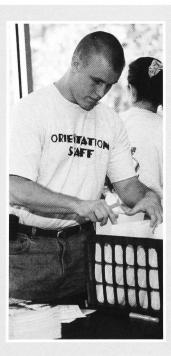

FCA sponsored a booth during orientation with free yogurt.

The Easter Bunny hopped by during the easter egg hunt.

Keuth Corbett has logged numerous volunteer service hours, including organizing local elementary children's on-campus parties.

Community Service

Students volunteer in many ways. The Campus Connection volunteer office helps pair students with volunteer opportunities on and off campus. Pictured is Gavin Magaha as he assists with orientation.

Celebrative

Shalon Hickle welcomes new students to McEwen as they check in.

Community

Making the transition from high school and living at home to college and on-campus residence is a wonderful and stressful period of time. Events are strategically planned to help each student with that adjustment....from the funfilled lawn party to one-on-one sessions with advisors.

Each member of our campus is called upon to reach out and help make High Point University a welcoming place as we celebrate our community.

A banner greets new students as they arrive at the residence hall.

Orientation is a time to share in fellowship - what better way than over a picnic on a perfect day.

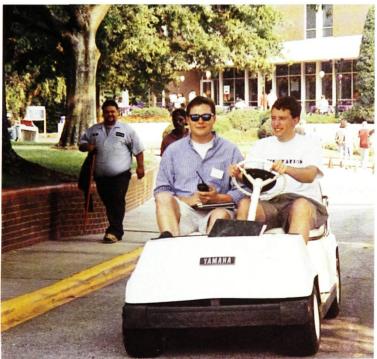

The orientation staff braved the heat with good humor.

The orientation lawn party highlighted student involvement, especially the Velcro olympics.

Welcome

Hala Qubein and her mother stroll to the chapel as they join other new students during the Wednesday service. Attending college is a big step for student and parents alike, so parents are encouraged to participate in orientation. Special meetings are geared toward parents which answer questions and help them make the adjustment to college life too.

Orientation

Week

Orientation is a time to welcome new students into our community. As well as being a joyous time, it's a hectic time with new students scrambing to register, move in, and attend required orientation meetings.

Orientation consists of two weeks of events designed to help new students get adjusted to college life and give them the right send off for their academic

Move-In Day

Move-in Day is truly a marvel of extensive planning and preparation. Every office coordinates their services in order to help the confused new students take care of all the required paperwork. Upperclass students, including SOS leaders assist with move-in.

Homecoming

Dance

The Homecoming Dance was the largest alumni/student envent held by High Point University. This year's dance boasted a record attendance of over 850 revelers. Market Square has been the site for the last three dances, and this year it was decorated in the Mardi Gras theme. Caterers served a mouthwatering array of hors d'oeuvres and the band kept the dance floor filled to capacity.

Stephenie Catts and Seth Carter make a stunning couple as Homecoming Queen and Big Man on Campus.

Some gentlemen have all the luck on the dance floor.

The dance floor was packed all night with enthusiastic revelers.

Everyone dressed to impress and dazzle at the dance. Equally noteworthy were the decorations in the Mardi Gras theme with over 600 balloons, carnival beads, and costume masks.

Community Reunited

Homecoming attracts students and alumni, but is also serves as a wonderful time for staff and faculty to mix and mingle outside the classroom. Stephenie Catts and Dr. Martinson share the traditional dance after the crowning of the queen.

Homecoming

Jennifer Romagna, Jamie Henton, Allison Brown, and Sue Gessner decorate the Student Activities Board float.

Week

Homecoming Week celebrates our ties with our students and graduates. The Offices of Alumni

Affairs and Student Life work closely to plan events which will reunite old classmates and include current students. This week boasts numerous class reunions, luncheons, banquets, and a parade, with the end result being a celebration of High Point

University, past and present.

Royalty necoming Que

Homecoming Queen and Big Man on Campus are elected by student vote. This year's recipients were Stephenie Catts and Seth Carter. Winners were announced at the dance which was held October 5 at Market Square.

Tower Players

The High Point University players presented Oliver!, the hit musical based on Charles Dickens' Oliver Twist. Like every year, the production went smoothly over Parents' Weekend, October 31 - November 2 and boasted record attendance.

Widow Corney (Heidi Edsall) flirts with Mr. Bumble (Michael Bennington) before selling Oliver.

Even the leads, Fagin (Brian Ersalesi) and Nancy (Chase Bowers) have time to smile after a performance.

The Artful Dodger takes Oliver to Fagin's den.

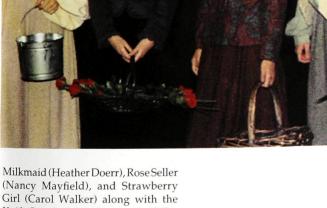

The Oliver! cast members gather during the last dress rehearsal.

The bar hopping and singing lead by Nancy created a festive party.

What's Going On?

Tony Romani joins the cast as Bill Sykes. The premise of the play takes place in a boarding house run by Mr. Bumble and the Widow Corney. They procede to sell Oliver to undertakers played by David Miller and Lauren Petrosino. Oliver runs away and is taken by the Artful Dogder to Fagin's den, where his adventures begin.

Knife Grinder (Brian Witt), sing "Who Will Buy."

Celebrating the

ARAMARK outdoes itself during the Christmas holiday dinner with special entrees, roast beef carver and fresh made desserts.

Season

During the holidays our campus displays acts of charity, generousity and fellowship. Halloween and Easter parties are organized by the University students for the local elementary children. Christmas (and other religious holidays) are recognized during the week before exams through the traditional chapel service and lessons and carols. By celebrating our traditions we grow closer as a community.

Amy Deuterman, Heather Stephany, and Sam Beck show that staff can get into trick or treating too.

Parkview Elementary children search for Easter eggs hidden in the park area behind the Slane University Center.

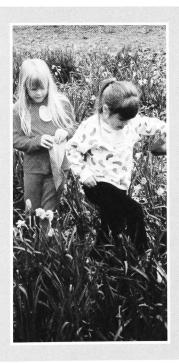

After the lighting of the Christmas tree, students sang holiday carols, then partook in the treats served by the Complex Community Council.

Who is that masked man? Perhaps it's Dean Evans incognito during Halloween.

Traditions

Celebrating holidays also means celebrating traditions. Some of our traditions have been adopted or developed just for our campus to help make our community unique. Students have also contributed to these traditions by organizing events which happen year after year. Tradition binds us together and helps us remember our history as a community.

Campus

Brent Ward and Paul Cottrell adjust the sound for another rockin' SAB event.

Activities

There was never a dull moment for students as the Student Activities Boardfilled their calendars with weekly events.
There was something for everyone, as gatherings involved everything from personal interests to high tech machinery.

Fall Bash featured free horoscopes which drew lines from 10 am to 6 pm.

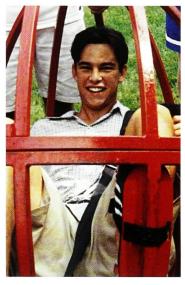

Acoustic Entertainer of the Year Mike Rayburn wowed audience members with his unique blend of comedy and music.

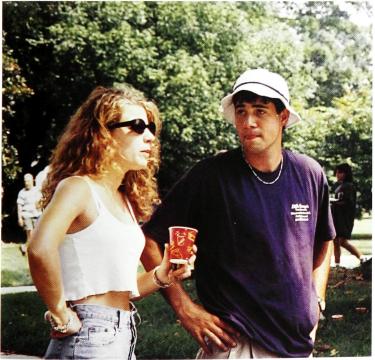

Virtual reality laser tag was a blast during Fall Bash.

John Giandoni has a ball, literally, while participating in human bowling.

S.A.B.

The Student Activities Board (S.A.B.) is comprised of one elected officer (S.A.B. President) and five appointed chairs. The board is responsible for all activities programming, including planning, setup and breakdown of events, artist hospitality, and technical duties.

Our Community

High Point University is more than just students or faculty. It is a community involving many people and many roles, all of which blend together to form our university. We work, we play, we learn, and we grow together.
